
Symrise Sensory & Consumer Insight EAME F&N Division, we are seeking an

Sensory & Consumer Insights Project Leader Snacks (m/f)

About Symrise:

Symrise is a global supplier of fragrances, flavourings, cosmetic active ingredients, and raw materials as well as functional ingredients. Our clients include manufacturers of perfumes, cosmetics and foods, the pharmaceutical industry and producers of nutritional supplements. With a global market share of approx. 12%, we are the fourth largest supplier in the fragrances and flavourings market.

For more information, visit our website www.symrise.com

Role Description:

Conduct sensory research in support of ingredient and human perception initiatives. Strong sensory background is essential. The Project Leader will work within the Sensory and Consumer Insight Manager and Sensory Panel to conduct appropriate research to ensure projects meet customer and business requirements.

Major Tasks/ Responsibilities

- Plan and develop project proposals, and execute project objectives in line with SCI best practice and resource.
- Manage sensory tests (i.e. sensory descriptive and difference tests) including panel facilitation and administration.
- Deliver and evaluate data quality, consistency and reproducibility of sensory panel performance.
- Manage consumer research activities qual. and quant. to support strategic projects (e.g. focus groups, online panels, product tests etc.)
- Analyse and interpret data to make recommendations to project stakeholders.
- Support Symrise Category, key account customer and R&D teams to ensure consistent communication input to improve Symrise flavours.
- Engage in regular exchange with members of the sensory team and continuously develop current best practices and research methodologies.

Qualifications

- BSc degree in Sensory/Consumer Science, Psychology or related studies
- Minimum of 2 years of professional experience in the Sensory/Consumer Science environment
- Fluent in English
- Statistical knowledge and good project management
- Presentation & Audience Handling Skills

Please note:

This is a full-time position (37.5 hours per week) located in Marlow and it should be filled as soon as possible. To apply for the role, please send your CV and a Covering letter to the UK HR Assistant, amy.loomes@symrise.com.

Your application will be treated confidentially.